Condé Nast Luxury Conference in Vienna rescheduled to 29-30 July 2020

Condé Nast is committed to providing an opportunity for the luxury industry to gather, learn, network, and be inspired. In response to the COVID-19 outbreak, the Condé Nast Luxury Conference has been rescheduled from April 2020 to Wednesday 29 and Thursday 30 July 2020.

This is to prioritise the health and safety of delegates, speakers, sponsors, colleagues - and their families. The updated conference programme in July will look at the way forward for the luxury industry, as well as the existing topics of Central and Eastern Europe, technology, craftsmanship, and sustainability. The conference will remain at the Hofburg Palace in Vienna.

“This was a difficult decision. But we believe that rescheduling is the responsible and sensible thing to do. We look forward to being in scenic Vienna, at the height of Summer, to host the 2020 edition of the Condé Nast Luxury Conference, ‘Gateways to Luxury’.” - Suzy Menkes, Editor, Vogue International

Condé Nast will continue to monitor the situation, and will take all appropriate measures. We are all looking forward to a rescheduled - but vibrant - conference.

Updates will be posted at cnluxury.com.
